PRICE, THREE CENTS

Vol. XIV, Number 16

WILL ASK FOR TAX QUARTER-MILL LESS

Lower Merion Township Seeks 12-Mill Rate for 1928.

OFFICIALS RE-ELECTED

Reduction of the Lower Merion tax rate by one-quarter mill, pay boosts for four police officials, and appointment of the township solicitor, engineer, secretary and assistant secretary, were approved by the township commission at a meeting Wednesday night in the Township Building at Ardmore.

The county Courts at Norristown will be petitioned this year for an extra 2 mills above the 10 mill legal limit for the township levies. This will make the total 1928 tax rate for Lower Merion 30 mills instead of 30 1/4, as it was for 1927. The school tax, which is included in this total, is 15 mills; the county rate is three mills.

Decision to ask for the 12 mill rate came as the result of many extra meetings of the commission and its committees, which have been whipping their budgets into shape for the new year. Budget figures will not be definitely fixed until the commission's meeting in February, but present estimates of revenue and appropriations were found accurate enough to guide the township rulers in preparing their tax figures.

Last year was the fifth year of Lower Merion's road program, for which the additional two and one-quarter tax rate had been granted. The commissioners originally petitioned the county Courts in 1922 for an increase of four and one-quarter mills, but when some taxpayers opposed this rate, a compromise was agreed upon. As a result, the road building program is still unfinished, and continuation of a rate in excess of 10 mills has been found necessary.

The one-quarter mill reduction from last year's rate was made possible by an increase in property values, on which the triennial assessors have recently made their report. The increased taxes on the new valuations are expected to make up for this reduction, which, based on last year's valuation of approximately $67,000,000, would be about $192,500. Considerable time-saving for Treasurer Peter C. Hess' office will follow the lopping off of the one-quarter mill which was difficult to compute.

FORD LEAVES MOORINGS

Monday afternoon the Ford coupe owned by Alex C. Betus left its moorings on Haverford avenue where it was parked in front of his electric shop, and gathering momentum, it climbed the curb with a front wheel and came to rest against the lamp post at the corner of Crane's drug store. The lamp shade, representing this familiarity, deserted its post and shattered itself on the pavement below.

A card party will be given by the Girl Scouts at the scout house on January 28 at 8 P. M., 500 and bridge.

VOTES THIRD BENEFIT

Dr. Albert C. Barnes, of Lower Merion, was elected with Harold G. Peirce, of Haverford, to the Board of Directors of the Lower Merion Police Pension Association, at a meeting Tuesday afternoon at the Township building in Ardmore. They were elected for a term of one year, to succeed Samuel Rea, Gladwyne, and John Barnes, Haverford, whose terms have expired.

Following the elections, Dr. Barnes, head of the Barnes Foundation, who was present, spoke. He let it be known that he would contribute $25,000 to the Pension Fund, if 25 other Lower Merion or Narberth residents would give $1000 apiece.

Officers of the association were re-elected as follows: Richard J. Hamilton, Ardmore, president; Morris L. Clothier, Villanova, and Police Superintendent Charles P. Smith, vice president; and Evan L. James, secretary-treasurer.

Helen Casey, widow of Patrolman John Casey, who died November 6, 1927, as a result of injuries sustained while on duty two years ago, was voted a pension of $50 a month, or $600 a year, at Tuesday's meeting. Mrs. Casey is the third person to benefit from the fund.

The widow of Officer E. A. Fletcher, killed June 9, last year, in a motorcycle accident while on duty, receives a pension from the fund, as does Officer Thomas Powers, who was retired from the force last fall. The pension in each case is $50 per month.

DISTRICT CHAIRMAN

Mrs. Samuel Z. Shope, 108 Iona avenue, class of 1894, has been appointed by Mrs. Eugene G. Grace, national chairman, as local chairman in the nation-wide campaign for $250,000 for the Moravian Seminary and College for Women to be held this week. The quota for Narberth is $600.

This Moravian Seminary is the oldest Protestant boarding school for young women in the United States. For 185 years this institution has proved itself capable of giving the best that modern education can offer, but now finds itself no longer able to meet the financial problems that confront the present-day institutions of learning, and like many more, must ask alumnae and friends to come to its aid.

OPENS DANCING STUDIO

Charles B. Wafer has taken out a license to operate a dance hall, and has announced the opening, on Saturday evening, January 28, of the Narberth Studio of Dancing. Weekly public dances are planned, to be held in the Narberth Theater Hall.

Music will be furnished by Bob Savill's music, and special decorations will be provided.

WOMAN SPEAKER AT ROTARY, FIRST TIME

Miss C. H. Zillesen, Px Official, Tells How Electricity Has Aided Wives.

PHILA. RATES ARE LOW

For the first time in its two-year history, the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club had as its speaker a woman at its luncheon Tuesday at the Cynwyd Club. Miss Clara H. Zillesen, assistant advertising manager of the Philadelphia Electric Company, was the guest of honor.

Miss Zillesen spoke of electricity in the home, and of its importance in the emancipation of the housewife from drudgery. She pointed to electricity as one of our cheapest conveniences.

"The average housewife," the speaker said, "must work about 60 hours a week to keep her home and family in order. Certainly that work is worth 60 cents an hour. Would you men be willing to pay your wives $36 per week for their services?"

She then drew a comparison between expenses for luxuries and the cost of electricity. Automobiles, amusements, tobacco, etc., run well into the hundreds of dollars each year for the average family, whereas electricity only costs between $20 and $30 per year.

Women are entitled to as much leisure as men, she claimed, and told of the time savings possible through the use of modern household machinery.

The Conowingo project in Maryland was touched on briefly. This, the second largest hydro-electric plant in the world, will send out its current over feed lines carrying 220,000 volts, an engineering accomplishment.

Pennsylvania uses one-tenth of America's electric power, Miss Zillesen said, more than is used by some of the larger European countries. The retail price for current in the Philadelphia district is much lower than the national average.

The meeting was under the chairmanship of William H. Gillis, Philadelphia Electric representative in this district. Visitors were Past President Ralph Wilson, of the Philadelphia Club; George R. Markle and Dr. Romaine C. Hoffman, of Narberth.

GIRL IS INJURED

Falls Between Platform and Rails at Narberth Station.

Miss Edyth Blundin, 706 Montgomery avenue, was badly injured Thursday morning when she lost her footing while attempting to board a moving train at Narberth Station. She was thrown beneath the 8.18 train.

A brakeman, noticing the accident, stopped the train, but not before Miss Blundin had suffered the loss of two fingers and the severe crushing of one hand, and cuts and bruises about the face and head.

Joseph P. Smyth, of 503 Brookhurst avenue, rushed the injured girl to the Bryn Mawr Hospital. Witnesses of the accident state that she reached the platform just as the train began to move, and in trying to board it, slipped between the platform and the tracks. She was dragged a short distance, but the train was stopped before more serious injury resulted.

The contest was for photographs of the best flower gardens and was judged by J. De Witt Knetter, of N. W. Ayer & Son; R. E. Hutchinson, of the American Legion Monthly and John Poehlman.

"Close of Business" Reads Tailor; Starts Narberth Bank Run Rumor

On Monday J. L. McCrery, cashier of the Narberth National Bank, sat at his desk. Before him was a sheet of figures showing a pleasing increase in deposits since the bank opened over two years ago. The door opened, and in walked a depositor.

"What is this I hear," he began, "about the bank going bust?" Mr. McCrery smiled at the joke and said that he, too, was proud of the bank's progress.

"But I mean it," his informant continued. "There is a growing rumor that the bank is about to close its doors." Mr. McCrery is an experienced banker, and knows something of the psychology of "runs," so it took him less than a minute to reach the main gossip centers of Haverford avenue, Narberth's business center.

Confirmations of the rumors were offered by many he passed on the street. At Davis' cigar store more imaginary and lurid details were on record. The source of the story was said to be one Frank Filippone, tailor, who plies his trade on the second floor of 215 Haverford avenue.

When Signor Filippone was found he looked up from a partially pressed pair of trousers to ask Mr. McCrery why he was still keeping the bank open.

"Where did you get that crazy idea," angrily inquired the banker. The tailor picked up a copy of the annual statement of finances. "There," he said.

The announcement read, as usual, "Statement at the close of business, December 31, 1927." "See," said Filippone, "State meant to close business two weeks ago. Why are you not closed as you were told by the State. I told my friends so they could get their money!"

FORMER PRESIDENT OF COUNCIL DIES

W. R. D. Hall Victim of Heart Disease While Driving at Shore.

LONG PROMINENT HERE

William R. D. Hall, former president of Council, died suddenly Tuesday at the shore. He was 54 years of age, and had been a resident of Avalon over two years.

Mr. Hall's death was due to heart disease. He was stricken while driving to his Avalon home from Cape May Court House, where he had visited a physician. Mrs. Hall, who was at the wheel, drove quickly to their home, but Mr. Hall was dead when they reached Avalon.

Mr. Hall graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1896 and spent two years in the Medical School. He entered newspaper work as a reporter for the old Philadelphia "Call." Later he served as reporter, news editor, night editor and city editor of the "Press."

After a short period as news editor of the Evening Telegraph, he was appointed statistician of the State Highway Department. While in this position, and while a resident of Narberth, he gave his fellow townsmen the benefit of his knowledge and experience in having Wynnewood avenue paved.

The stretch from Rockland avenue to the railroad bridge had for years been one of the worst of Narberth's many bad roads. He guided the local authorities in the devious channels of finance and politics necessary to secure outside aid in the work, and the result was one of the first concrete roads in the section, installed at little cost to Narberth.

When Mr. Hall's services to the State ended he acted as director of publicity for the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce and after that for the Philadelphia National Bank. Later he was made night city editor of the Public Ledger, and a short time after was promoted to the responsible post of city editor.

In spite of his responsibilities, to which he gave his best efforts, Mr. Hall took the time to aid in many local matters. His two most important posts in Narberth were chairman of the Board of Di-

BOOM JOHNSON

Friends Want County Leader for Auditor General.

A boom for Charles Johnson, county Republican leader and present Secretary of the Commonwealth, for candidate as Auditor General in the primaries next spring has been started by friends in Montgomery county. His friends see in him a potential candidate for Governor in 1930, and are eager to have him go after the Auditor Generalship as a stepping stone to the higher office. Johnson has had a quarter of a century of experience at Harrisburg, and has built up a strong political and personal following as holder of various times of the position of Clerk of the House, Insurance Commissioner and Deputy Auditor-General.

WOHLERT REPLIES TO
"THE SPECTATOR"Doesn't Want Recreation Job, But Nominates Others.

Your left-handed compliments in a recent issue of "Our Town" amused my family very considerably, and no doubt caused a broad smile to spread over the faces of the gentle readers at your suggestion this his honor, the burgess, should place me on the Board of Recreation. That would be too absurd from a political point of view for serious consideration. Yet I never was wild about the choice of material for this board has made the present and previous Lord Mayors of Our Town. It was a great shock to me that with the possible exception of one past member of the board, not one friend of the playground proposition, nor one worker for that cause has ever been chosen to sit in with that body. No wonder the Board of Recreation never had "Stated" or "Regular" meetings, when not one member is a friend of the idea nor the spirit of the thing. No wonder the place is nothing more than a clean, well-kept ball field, a plan far removed from the minds of the prime movers for the progressive project. Certainly if nothing more was accomplished than the removal of a piece of real estate that, if not now, then in a few years, could be sold for enough cash to liquidate the entire indebtedness of the borough.

Well, what is the use when men such as Robert Nash and Jack Cabrey, two of the real workers, were not appointed to membership on the board? Two burgesses have passed them by. The people are indifferent, tired and weary. What is the use? The only way to get action is to elect a burgess next time who will not let one of our burges best assets become atrophied by disease. No use to blame council; that body is without authority in this matter. The whole thing rests with the burgess. He can appoint stewards that will not bury the talents entrusted by them by their master, but reinvest that talent so that when the master calls for an accounting, compound interest can be shown, beside and in addition to the original capital investment.

As I read this over it looked to me as if I have seconded your motion. Well, if it does, it is an illusion. I need all my time to manage my own affairs, as we from time to time have over 100 men on the payroll. I have now all I can do, from eight to 16 hours per day.

As to Mr. Cabrey, he feels that his appointment would raise a religious issue, and does not desire to be on the board. I feel our citizens are not so petty to consider for one moment a religious issue in any case of public office. Mayor Thompson in his time dragged a smoked hering across the trail, but Narberth's average intelligence is superior to that of the Windy City.

A. E. WOHLERT.

The Quadrangular Debating League, composed of teams representing Cheltenham High School, Lower Merion, Upper Darby and Abington held its initial series of debates yesterday morning. The teams of Lower Merion High School met those of Cheltenham on the question "Resolved: That the Philadelphia suburban senior high schools should adopt a policy not requiring home work."

The debates were held in the auditoriums of each school with the entire student bodies as the audiences. Cheltenham sent four representatives to Lower Merion while Lower Merion reciprocated by sending four persons to Cheltenham.

The following was the order of speakers at the Lower Merion School: Affirmative, Cheltenham—1—Helen Garrett, 2—Martin Meyer, 3—Daniel Silverman, 4—Refutation, Dorothy Flee.

Negative, Lower Merion—1—Louis Baker, 2—Ann Speed, 3—Robert Kesler (captain), 4—Refutation, James Green. Time-keeper, Mr. Africa; teller, William Kavanaugh; Lower Merion coach, Mr. Moore.

Time of speaking for presentation speeches was seven minutes each. There was an intermission of 10 minutes for the preparation of rebuttal. Each team gave one rebuttal speech of five minutes, the negative speaking first.

Members of the Other Team

Lower Merion's representatives that spoke at Cheltenham were: 1—Pat Brady, 2—James Gowland, 3—Margaret Mawhinney (captain), 4—Refutation, Benjamin Ludlow.

After the debate at Lower Merion, the members of the visiting team were served with luncheon by the girls of the Domestic Science Class, in charge of Miss Fretz.

The Lower Merion debaters were picked from members of the Forum, the debating club of the school. Mr. Moore, of the English Department, is the faculty adviser of the club. He is a graduate of Princeton, where he took an active part in debating.

An Iowa fisherman, chasing a grasshopper across a rural road, was run down by an automobile and killed, notes the Salina Journal, observing that once again there is failure to settle the argument whether worms or flies are best for bait. Grasshoppers show up now as a poor compromise, the Journal thinks.

Kiwanis Joins in Anniversary Program

The Main Line club joined with the 1670 other clubs of Kiwanis International in the United States and Canada in observing the thirteenth anniversary of the organization's founding during anniversary week of January 15 to 21, at its meeting Tuesday at the Casa Del Rey.

The club program was under the direction of the committee on Kiwanis education, and included several numbers that were featured by all of the clubs throughout the United States and Canada. Through this program it is hoped to make Kiwanis International with its 100,000 Kiwanians more familiar to the general public.

The program was in charge of M. P. Burlingame, of Bryn Mawr, chairman of the committee on Kiwanis education, and Dr. George P. Yocum, a member of that committee, gave a short history of Kiwanis International from the time of its organization in Detroit on January 21, 1915.

According to Dr. Yocum, Kiwanis International has had a remarkable growth. Its present number of clubs exceeds 1670, and it has a total membership of over 100,000. Henry C. Heinz, of Atlanta, Ga., is the international president, having been elected at the eleventh international convention, held in Memphis last June.

Rev. Snyder Is Speaker.

The 1928 convention will be held in Seattle, Wash., from June 17 to 21. Two delegates from the local club will attend the annual session.

Mr. Burlingame had arranged as the principal speaker Rev. Clarence M. Snyder, immediate past president of the Norristown Kiwanis Club and at the present time chairman of the inter-club relations committee of that club. Mr. Snyder, taking as his subject, "What Kiwanis Has Done for Me," outlined to the membership of the Main Line Club what, in his opinion, were the benefits which a community could derive from its Kiwanis club. Mr. Snyder particularly stressed the fact that one of the chief results of a Kiwanis club is in the fostering of a spirit of tolerance among the members of the club and in the community in which the club is located, and the fostering of a more friendly spirit of co-operation between members of the community regardless of color, race or creed.

Following Mr. Snyder's talk, Edred J. Pennell, of Bryn Mawr, chairman of the program committee, extended to Mr. Snyder the greetings of the Main Line club and thanks for the talk which he had given.

Cathedral at Valley Forge

Ground will be broken February 22 for the National Washington Memorial Church at Valley Forge. Dr. W. Herbert Burk has announced plans this week.

The structure will cost approximately $10,000,000 and will accommodate 5000 persons. It should be finished by 1932.

The cornerstone of the edifice will be laid June 19, the sesquicentennial anniversary of the evacuation of Valley Forge by the Continental Army. At the laying of the cornerstone, it is planned to have present some of the most notable figures in national affairs.

The structure will be patterned after the historic Yorkminster Cathedral in England. It will be erected on a tract of 15 acres adjoining the present chapel, and overlooking the Schuylkill.

Funds available at present amount to $100,000, Dr. Burk declared, and the balance will be raised in a nationwide campaign.

NIP BANK RUN

Reports of the remainder of the interview vary as to detail. The lecture on banking customs, however, was sufficiently impressive to send the tailor forthwith to set the rumors at rest.

Taking no chances, Mr. Mc-Crery telephoned the Federal Reserve Bank to be ready to send out an armored car loaded with dollar bills to appease any depositors who might be nervous. The precautions were not needed, for by nightfall the "panic" had dwindled to a supper-table joke.

A question has been asked and the answer should bring forth enough material for this week's column.

Can I raise Sweet William from seed and have it bloom this year?

The answer is—No. Question No. 2—Why? Sweet William, or Dianthus Barbatas, as it is listed in the seedman's catalog, is strictly a biennial, although in some catalogs it is listed as a perennial.

Why and what is a biennial? A biennial is a plant that blooms and seeds in two seasons or two years. A perennial is a plant that lives on from year to year and propagates itself by a spreading rootstock, although it may at the same time reproduce itself by seeding. An annual is a plant that completes its life cycle in one growing season, or one year, and having propagated itself by seeding ceases to exist.

An annual is not necessarily a tender plant; many of them can be sown outdoors in the fall to bloom the following spring.

If we must have bloom from Dianthus Barbatas about the first of June this year we will have to buy plants from the nurseryman or plantsman. Newport Pink is the most popular variety, the white and deep scarlet colors being a better choice than mixed varieties, which are mostly aurial types showing two colors in the same flower.

Your Sweet William will act just like a perennial because it seeds so freely, and if the little seedlings are given space they will bloom the following year, although they will not always be the same color as the parent plant.

In these days of garden color schemes it is highly desirable to purchase flower seeds in separate colors, or named varieties, rather than in mixture. A block of plants of one color is always more effective than a mixture and some fine combinations can be worked out that cannot be had with mixed colors.

Among the better known biennials that must be raised from seed every year in order to have them always with us are Foxgloves, or Digitalis, and Canterbury Bells, or Campanula Medium; both grow to a height of three to four feet and both come in shades of pink, white and blue. Plants in pots can be bought from the nursery to be set early and bloom in June.

The garden editor will attempt to answer questions about the garden. Mail your question to the paper and the question and answer will appear in the following issue.

CLUB MEMBERS MAKE TOUR OF NEWSPAPER

Report on Trip to Ledger Plant. Club Notes.

Tuesday, under the guidance of Mrs. Eberhardt Mueller, of the Home Economics Committee of the Women's Community Club of Narberth, ten women inspected the building and printing operation of the Public Ledger. Both Miss Stone and Colonel House were introduced quite informally as the party went through the editorial rooms. A marvelous thing seemed the automatic typewriters typing Associated Press news direct from a few of the hundred private wires for which the Ledger pays two million dollars a year. There were groups of desks arranged in semi-circles at which men were assembling "copy." The guide, Mr. Bullwer, showed the stereotype machine. A tray of type and blocks is covered with what looks like heavy blotting paper. Subjecting this to 200 tons pressure makes a "mat"—a clear impression of a whole page from which is made a cylindrical metal mold from which the actual printing is done. The complicated linotype machines make words or groups of words on type; the monotype, single letters. Both these are hot, greasy machines into which are fed ingots or "pigs" of metal composed of lead, antimony, and tin of which 150,000 tons are kept on hand. One kind man at a linotype machine made the visitors' names in type. The great presses, whirling black with ink and hot with steam, were fascinating to watch, especially the color press, which was turning out comics at a dizzy speed. They print on both sides, cut, fold and deliver in bundles of 50 in an incredibly short time. Copies of the latest edition, folders and postals were given the visitors just before the staff photographer took their pictures and "good-byes" were said.

Club Notes.

The Music Study Class of the Women's Community Club was held at the home of Mrs. A. Staples, 124 Woodside avenue, on Friday afternoon, January 13. The afternoon was devoted to a study of seventeenth century music. The class enjoyed the interpretation by Mrs. W. W. Fretz, vocal teacher of Philadelphia, who was assisted by Mrs. W. C. Newman and Mrs. C. Kaerber. A fine attendance was reported. The music study class is filling not only a real need, but is an original idea in club classes.

The Women's Community Club will enjoy on January 24 under the direction of the music chairman, Mrs. Hipwell, an hour of Strauss. Mrs. F. R. Havens, of the Sherwood Club, will give a musical reading, "Enoch Arden." She will bring her own accompanists. Mrs. John D. Hipwell, of Drexel Hill, will render vocal solos. The music will all be by the composer Richard Strauss. Mrs. George Supplee will be hostess for the afternoon.

The Montgomery county meeting on January 26 will be held at Willow Grove, the hostess club being the Willow Grove Civic Club. A club institute and short discussions of important questions of club practice, mem-

It was during Mr. Suplee's regime as street commissioner that practically every street in Narberth was paved, and many were re-surfaced last year making them all in first-class shape.

As building inspector Mr. Suplee has supervised the building operations in the borough for the past three years. Seven hundred and ninety-seven inspections were made last year and 820 the year before.

Mr. Suplee's years of public service, together with his loyal and intelligent devotion to his duties have resulted in the acquisition of enough jobs to swamp a less interested public official.
